- 4) Write a paraphrase for the following text :

Though Tagore was essentially a poet, he was more than a mere poet, as Gandhi was more than a mere politician. His genius enriched whatever it touched. Like the sun after which he was named (Rabi means the sun) he shed light and warmth on his age, vitalised the mental and moral soil of his land, revealed unknown horizons of thought and spanned the arch that divides the East from the West. The vitality of his genius is truly amazing. No less amazing are the variety and beauty of the literary forms he created. He gave to his people in one life-time what other people have taken centuries to evolve – a language capable of expressing the finest modulations of thought and feeling, a literature worthy to be taught in any University in the world.
